Qualifications for Membership

The corporate headquarters office must be the joining, dues-paying entity. Branch, franchised, and licensed operations are members through their corporate headquarters. The company applying for associate membership must be a supplier to the staffing industry. A firm may not qualify for industry partner membership if it operates or has any ownership in a staffing company (except ownership of less than 2 percent of a publicly traded company) unless the staffing company is an active member. MSA members with separate divisions, subsidiaries, or lines of business must enroll those separate operations as dues paying members for those operations to receive MSA benefits.

All changes in address and designated company representative must be submitted in writing to MSA on corporate letterhead by the current designated company representative.

Resignations shall be made in writing and sent to MSA. Additional indebtedness will cease at the time of resignation. Resignations will be accepted as of the day they are received by MSA, but will not absolve the member of past indebtedness.

The dues investment for industry partner membership is $360 annually. The membership year runs from Sep. 1 through Aug. 31.

Tax Deductions

Contributions or gifts to MSA are not deductible as charitable contributions for tax purposes, but they may be deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense. Please note that the law requires that the deductible amount of any trade association dues must be reduced to the extent the association incurs expenses during the year for certain specified legislative and political activities. For fiscal year 2007/2008 MSA estimates that 5 percent of member dues will be used for such activities and therefore will not be deductible.

Industry partner membership is a non-voting membership in the association. Industry partner members and branch, franchised, and licensed operations of associate members are entitled to take advantage of member rates for all MSA publications and services including advertising and exhibiting.
